SO WHAT'S IT WORTH?

An evening with Jonty Hearnden

Spend a light-hearted and entertaining evening with Jonty Hearnden one of the most recognisable faces on television when it comes to antiques. This unique event will pit the knowledge of the audience in the room against one another as the tables are turned as they become the antique experts for the evening.

Jonty will hand pick selected objects from the audience and just like the real Antiques Roadshow he will share his knowledge with the room whilst the owners reveal their connection with the chosen item.

The twist comes when Jonty asks the audience to value the artefact whilst he keeps his opinions to himself.

Demonstrating his skill with both antiques and people alike he eventually reveals his valuations and the winner is the person or group that is closest to his totals.

"Wow Jonty! Thank you so much for making our event so memorable. You entertained and enlightened all of us, got all our guests discussing valuations before you gave your verdict, and managed to talk to everyone who brought items along on the evening. A great evening and thanks again."
